Adele Earnshaw

Wide Spot In The Road

New Paintings

Adele Earnshaw is an internationally known artist and an international person, dividing her time between her residence in New Zealand and living and traveling in the United States. She paints and exhibits her work in both hemispheres, with emphasis on scenery that inspires. Her main interest is not in painting a literal landscape, but in capturing the feel of a place. The still pristine oak covered hills of the Santa Ysabel area are among her favorite places because of the light, which softens contours and colors, creating a mood which she can express in her paintings. Earnshaw is author of the North Light book Painting the Things You Love.
